Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 28 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Turning unsettled on Friday and over the weekend.

Today:
Dry but often cloudy, though some bright or sunny intervals are likely at times, especially in the south and east. Staying very mild and becoming rather breezy again especially along the coast. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Some clear spells art first but cloud will slowly thicken from the west, with rain reaching western parts by dawn. Mild and breezy, especially near the coast. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy with long periods of rain, the heaviest further south. Drier brighter weather moving into the west by late afternoon with all parts dry through the evening. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Conditions remaining changeable and windy at times. Further spells of rain, which will be heavy at times, especially on Sunday. Saturday night will be mainly dry. Very strong winds Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.